

CNMANAGEMENT

Commissioning Management Solutions

To Whom It May Concern,

CNManagement is an international engineering consultancy firm for the Water Industry specialising in Commissioning systems and processes. BART Consulting was engaged to develop a book keeping system and process that was both flexible and systematic in order to satisfy both our company and client requirements. The first encounter with Sean Dickens of BART Consulting was informative, logical and well founded.

“Close to 7months later and not only do we have a functional system, we retain a continued support system tackling the increased diversities of our industry demands. It’s hard to find a company that delivers value like a big company but ensures the personal service of a small one. A massive thank you to Sean for all your hard work and patience.”

I would highly recommend BART Consulting to any business looking to stretch the confines of the normal bookkeeping world. Sean is truly an expert in his field.

Yours Sincerely,

Caroline Bernard

Caroline Bernard
Office Manager