

MAMA BOSSÉ™

your pregnancy, your style

mamabosse.com.au

While in the later stages in the set up of our online maternity retailing store, we found that there were large gaps in our procedural structures with regards to the website store and MYOB integration. The disappointment of our initial service providers not being able to offer a solution to this issue was building to the point of uncontrollable frustration. We had products being made, the website was about to launch and we needed a solution FAST!!!! Enter Sean Dickens and BART Consulting.....

As a small start up business on a tight budget, we knew what we were looking for; a cost effective solution to the full integration between our accounting systems and our online store; someone who could talk our language yet have the commercial acumen and experience to problem solve with our IT providers. From my initial visit to BART's website and my 1st conversation with Sean I knew he was our answer.

Sean worked with our busy schedule, making his appointments at our office for after hours every week. He took the time to ask the right questions and from the start had a clear understanding of our needs and business goals. Sean is always contactable, extremely prompt in his replies and leaves no stone unturned in working with our suppliers to gain the best outcome for us and our business. We now have the streamlined, seamless MYOB integration that a business in our competitive environment needs to succeed, for which we have Sean to thank.

We will continue to utilise the services of Sean and BART Consulting and would recommend anyone in any business, who is looking for a "whole approach" to their MYOB system, to do the same.

Kind regards,
Jodi and Regan Jones.
